

AQUEDUCT PRESS

Spring/Summer 2018

WORK TO STRETCH THE IMAGINATION AND STIMULATE THOUGHT

New Releases

Chercher La Femme

by L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-147-6)

They named the planet “La Femme” and called it a paradise and refused to leave it. Now Julia 9561 is heading up the mission to retrieve the errant crew and establish meaningful Contact with the inhabitants. Are the inhabitants really all female, as the first crew claimed? Why don’t the men want to return to Earth? What happened to the women on the crew? And why did Paul 22423 warn the First Council to send only male crew members?

“Chercher La Femme, which unfolds in a strange, complex, alien future, effectively explores communication with alien life forms and how amorphous and challenging that might be, as well as the visceral power of alien forms of beauty and art, giving the story compelling depths.”

—Suzy McKee Charnas, author of The Vampire Tapestry and the Holdfast Chronicles

Sleeping with Monsters:

Readings and Reactions in Science Fiction and Fantasy by Liz Bourke

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-123-0)

2018 Hugo Finalist

A Locus recommended book

A provocative, immensely readable collection of essays about the science fiction and fantasy field, from the perspective of a feminist and a historian, Sleeping With Monsters is an entertaining addition to any reader’s shelves.

“[Bourke] consistently raises questions about the sort of content in books that for a long time was invisible to many reviewers or considered not worth examining. Uncovering the complex morass of sexism, racism, classism, ableism, religious bigotry, and homo- and transphobia that often underlies many of our received assumptions about narrative is right in her wheelhouse. ...[She] talks to us as if we’re in conversation. What a pleasure it is to read pithy reviews of often-overlooked work I already admire, as well as to discover books I need to read.”

—from the Introduction by Kate Elliott

“This strong collection is culled from Bourke’s similarly titled Tor.com blog as well as other online sources, and features eight original selections. Bourke’s critiques of fantasy and science fiction—most running fewer than 1,000 words—demonstrate both her critical acumen and her appreciation of the genre.”

—Publishers Weekly, June 2017

The Breath of the Sun

by Rachel Fellman

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-138-4)

Lamat Paed understands paradoxes. She’s a great mountain climber who’s never summited, the author of a tell-all that didn’t really tell anything. For years she guided pilgrims up the foothills of the Sublime Mount, leading them as high as God would let them go. And then she partnered the apostate Southern priest Mother Disaine on the most daring, most blasphemous expedition in history — an attempt to reach the summit of the sacred mountain, the top of God’s head. Disaine returned in triumph, claiming to be the first person since the prophet to have summited and lived. But Lamat went into hiding.

Now, late in life and exiled from the mountain, Lamat finally tells her story to her partner, Otile. It’s the story of why she really wrote her first book all those years ago, how she came to be cast out from the mountain-dwelling Holoh people, and how she fled to the anonymity of the city to hide from her fame. Most of all, it’s the story of her bond with Mother Disaine — the blasphemer, charlatan, and visionary who stole Lamat’s life to serve her own purposes — and what really happened on their last, greatest expedition.

Ring of Swords

by Eleanor Arnason

with a new introduction by Ursula K. Le Guin

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-140-7)

As Ursula K. Le Guin writes in her new introduction: “Having recently brought their own competitive, feud-ridden society into a fragile balance of peace, the Hwarhath have been facing an unexpected problem: the lack of enemies. Given the apparently innate male propensity for finding pretexts to fight, and the fact that their men were all trained as warriors, the women running things at home make sure the men stay out in space protecting the home planet. The drawback is that there seems to be nobody to protect it from. So, when in the vastness of space they finally stumble into another intelligent species, they rejoice. Enemies! At last!

And those enemies? Humans, of course. And yet, Ring of Swords is a novel “not about fighting a war, but about trying not to.”

“The tense plot, alive with skillful worldbuilding and fascinating characters, is as entertaining as it is fascinating. An introduction by Ursula K. Le Guin reminds readers exactly why Arnason’s novel remains important today.” Publishers Weekly (starred review)

New Conversation Pieces

Vol. 61 If Not Skin

by Toby MacNutt

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-145-2)

The pieces in If Not Skin are united by themes of embodiment—all that a body can be, all that can be a body, by magic, science, and experience. Not all bodies grant ease, but neither are all arduous bodies necessarily shaded with horror. Move through pain, pleasure, gender, freedom, age, and memory with every shapeshift, taking them in through richly textured, senseheavy poetry and prose.

Vol. 60 Feed Me the Bones of Our Saints

by Alex Dally MacFarlane

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-142-1)

A civilization of only women and foxes fights against its extermination. A series of maps point to the place of our sun in alien skies. A story of vengeance is told and then lost, held only in the wind's teeth and rain-ruined tapestries. A god creates a narrative map of a nation.

Foxes run through these stories, in various guises. They make memories, turn history into truth or toss it aside— but they're as susceptible as we are to being forgotten.

Vol. 58 Helen's Story

by Rosanne Rabinowitz

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-134-6)

Contrary to rumors of her death, Helen Vaughan is alive and well and living in Shoreditch, East London, stirring up the art world with a series of erotically-charged landscapes depicting the strange events of her youth. Brought up by a man who regarded her as loathsome, shuffled between boarding schools and foster homes, young Helen only found pleasure in visits from a secret companion. She made one other close friend, a girl called Rachel who disappeared in full daylight. After that, Helen was left with her companion.

As she remembers her friend, Helen lays on each stroke of paint as if it can bring Rachel back or take her to where Rachel went. She paints to summon her companion once again, and show everyone what really lurks beyond the vanishing point.

Nominated for the 2013 Shirley Jackson Award for outstanding achievement in literature of the "dark fantastic," Helen's Story gives a voice to one of the genre's most enigmatic antagonists.

Vol. 59 Liminal Spaces

by Beth Plutchak

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-136-0)

"Yes, these stories are science fiction and fantasy, but they are deeply rooted in reality, especially in the lives of women. We learn about being in college in the 1960s, going back to nature in Alaska, working in a bank and trying to make a good life for a child with a disability. If there is a single theme, it's the struggle of women to control their lives—to be free. In addition to this often ordinary, gritty struggle of girls, wives, working women and mothers, the stories have time travel, space travel, game theory, clones, and magic. Grit and sense of wonder and (often) hope. What more could you ask for? I strongly recommend the collection."

—Eleanor Arnason, author of Ring of Swords and Hwarhath Stories

"Cosmovore Searches the Animal Shelter" nominated for the Rhysling Award

Vol. 57 Cosmovore

by Kristi Carter

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-131-5)

Nothing escapes me, not even light.
Mother, monstrosity, woman,
Cosmovore.

In this narrative collection of poems, the voice of the void reels and keens over meditations on consumption, the body, and the world. From the edges of the Milky Way to the confines of an eggshell, nowhere is safe from her hunger. In the tinny echoes of a much-hated musical triangle, explore the questions she faces about womanhood, motherhood, society, and a goat as she tries to reconcile those around her with her own identity.

A Locus recommended book

Vol. 56 In Search of Lost Time

by Karen Heuler

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-125-4)

After beginning chemo for a rare cancer, Hildy discovers an extraordinary talent—the ability to see and take other people's time. She also discovers there's an underground market for quality time. After all, who has enough time? The dying, especially, want to get more of it, but giving it to them means taking it from someone else. How moral is she? How will she juggle the black marketers' strong-arm tactics and her own quandaries about stealing something so precious and vital that it can never be replaced?

A Locus New and Notable Book

The Waterdancer's World

by L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-109-4)

Humans have been struggling to live on Frogmore for almost five centuries, adapting themselves to punishing gravity and the deadly mistflowers that dominate its ecology. Financier Inez Gauthier, patron of the arts and daughter of the general commanding the planet's occupation forces, dreams of eliminating the mistflowers that make exploitation of the planet's natural wealth so difficult and impede her father's efforts to crush the native insurgency. Fascinated by the new art-form of waterdancing created by Solstice Balalzalar celebrating the planet's indigenous lifeforms, Inez assumes that her patronage will be enough to sustain Solstice's art even as she ruthlessly pursues windfall profits at the expense of all that has made waterdancing possible.

"...Duchamp...raises some hard questions about society's responsibility for the well-being of its most marginalized people, suggesting that the powerful create the underclasses and keep them powerless for the sake of economic convenience. Readers will find much to ponder in Duchamp's provocative ideas about culture and colonization."

Publishers Weekly, October 2016

World Fantasy Award Finalist

Roadsouls

by Betsy James

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-091-2)

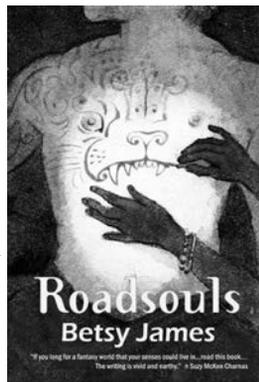

"Say yes to the Roadsouls, and you can't unsay it."

Even when that yes has sucked you out of your old life and hurled you into a world that will strip you and change you forever.

"If you long for a fantasy world that your senses could live in, and that isn't full of scheming nobility, cynical warriors, mass hatreds, and magic as a weapon, read this book. Its backbone is the wandering life of a sort of gypsy-hippie-circus group traveling a pre-industrial landscape and offering a way out to the misfits and throw-aways.... Vivid and earthy, celebrating a rural world with its sights and smells and wildlife, and the customs and pithy, colorful speech of its people...." Suzy McKee Charnas,

"The Roadsouls, and the novel as a whole, are...open to wonder: genuine transformations that just happen, without rituals or spells.... Betsy James deliberately avoids the tropes and narratives typical of long fiction (mainstream, heroic fantasy, or romance)."

Faren Miller, Locus, April 2016

Time's Oldest Daughter

by Susan W. Lyons

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-105-6)

As the cosmic Big Bang propels Time, energy, and matter into motion, God and Satan squabble over their respective domains while Sin and her son Death stew in squalor and despair at the Gates of Hell. All she wants is to care for her child, who has an enormous appetite but nothing to eat in their dreary prison, other than herself, of course. But then Sin notices, far above the stink and squalor of Hell, the clean and sparkling garden of Eden, where Death's apple-cheeked cousins Adam and Eve enjoy delightful childhoods and plenty of fresh, wholesome food in a setting where Death himself could thrive.

Now what's a good mother to do?

"This Divine Comedy can be genuinely comic (raucous and vulgar, with a great cast of caricatures) yet manages to slip both wise and touching moments into its sly insights about life, the universe, et cetera."

Faren Miller, Locus, February 2017

A Locus Recommended First Novel

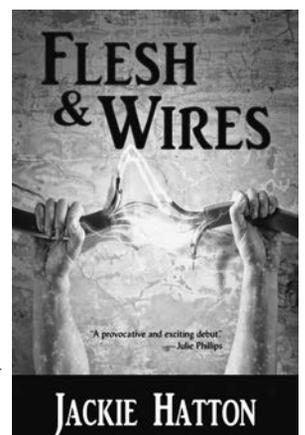

Flesh & Wires

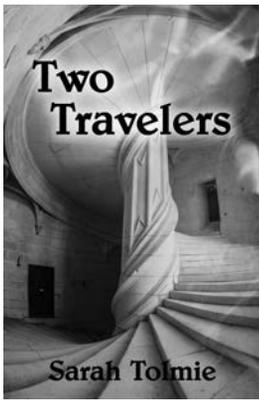

by Jackie Hatton (ISBN: 978-1-61976-085-1)

Following a failed alien invasion the world left is sparsely populated with psychologically scarred survivors, some of them technologically-enhanced women. Lo, leader of the small safe haven of Saugatuck, finds her technological enhancements put to the test when a spaceship arrives bearing two men with both wonderful and terrifying news. Flesh & Wires raises questions about community, colonialism, immigration, and basic human rights, and challenges our assumptions about the ties and obligations of family, community, and society in a crisis situation.

"Jackie Hatton shows us real women in extreme circumstances: survivors of disaster, traumatized and divided among themselves, with superhuman powers and all-too-human hearts. As they confront change, we witness their desperation, their hope, their need to discover the full range of their powers. A provocative and exciting debut."

Julie Phillips, author of James Tiptree Jr.: The Double Life of Alice B. Sheldon

Two Travelers

by Sarah Tolmie

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-103-2)

The two stories that make up Two Travelers are portal fictions in an existential style like Isak Dinesen's, exploring exile and identity.

"Tolmie...delivers an exquisite duo of short stories in this slim volume.... Rich with detail, both stories are imbued with baroque sensibilities, a refreshing deviation from the typical medieval setting. Rather than relying on pure exposition, Tolmie uses the characters' interactions and personalities to bring color to the unique magic of each setting. Tolmie's investigations of identity, place, and personal meaning are a delight to read and a great contribution to the genre."

Publishers Weekly, April 2016

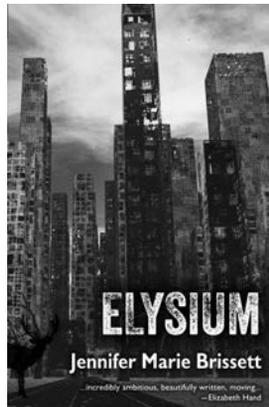

Special Citation, 2015 Philip K. Dick Award
Tiptree Award Honor List
a Locus New and Notable Book

Elysium

by Jennifer Marie Brissett

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-053-0)

A computer program etched into the atmosphere has a story to tell, the story of two people, of a city lost to chaos, of survival and love. The program's data, however, has been corrupted. As the novel's characters struggle to survive apocalypse, they are sustained and challenged by the demands of love in a shattered world both haunted and dangerous.

"Wow! Jenn Brissett's new novel...is a knockout. The writing and structure of the book are so accomplished, I'm amazed this is a first novel.... It's a science fiction, post-apocalyptic, tale.... A love story for a new age. The structure of the novel was the most startling thing to me—a complex construction that never comes across as complicated. The effect is like a magic trick. Great characters that make the adventure worth the journey."

Jeffrey Ford, author of The Shadow Year and Crackpot Palace

"Brissett deftly handles the challenge of a multitude of characters all being the same people in a multitude of places that are the same place, while exploring complicated questions about identity."

Publishers Weekly, October 2014

A Locus Recommended First Novel
Shortlisted for the 2014 Crawford Award

The Stone Boatmen

by Sarah Tolmie

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-051-6)

Tolmie tells a tale of three cities, separated by oceans, lost to one another long ago: the first, the city of rituals, of ceremonies; the second, the city of words, of poetry; and the third, the city of the golden birds, of dreams. In their harbors stand the stone boatmen, pointing outward toward the unknown.

"...a powerfully original first novel... At any moment, beauty may strike with random grace, and unpretentious little details evoke the sense of wonder. Reading The Stone Boatmen feels as natural as breathing, but you can't take anything for granted."

Faren Miller, Locus, April 2014

A Locus Recommended First Novel

The Weave

by Nancy Jane Moore

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-077-6)

The crew of the interstellar ship Mercator is making valuable discoveries in the Doradoan region, but conflict is mounting between them and the inhabitants of the Earthlike-planet Cibola. Xenologist Caty Sanjuro knows Cibolans can stop human settlements on their planet, but her superiors think she's just gone native. Sundown, a Cibolan astronomer, is working to keep the resistance peaceful, but others see no reason for caution: they have successfully fought off invaders in the past. Despite the growing friendship between Sanjuro and Sundown, preventing war is looking more and more impossible.

"In this accomplished first novel, Nancy Jane Moore dramatizes at least three great speculative themes: first contact, telepathic communication, and earthlings and aliens at war. ... Like Ursula Le Guin, Moore never settles for pat or clichéd extrapolations. Further, she treats each of her archetypal themes with adult thought-experiment thoroughness and all her characters, human and alien, with insight, respect, and compassion. Aficionados of real science fiction will love and celebrate this remarkable debut."

Michael Bishop, author of A Funeral for the Eyes of Fire

"Nancy Jane Moore's remarkable first novel drew me in and kept me reading and left me, at the end, knowing that Caty Sanjuro and Sundown the Cibolan continue their work and their lives and their friendship. My favorite kind of novel."

Vonda N. McIntyre, author of Dreamsnake, The Moon and the Sun, and The Starfarers Quartet

Space is Just a Starry Night

Short fiction by Tanith Lee

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-031-8)

The tales in Space is Just a Starry Night range across genres, as elegant as the field of stars spanning a clear dark sky.

“Lee’s powerful science fiction collection assembles 12 tales published between 1979 and 2011, plus two originals. All of them showcase her strong, entertaining, and often gorgeous writing.”

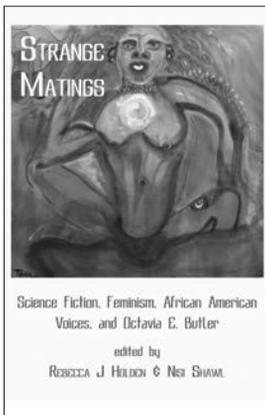

Publishers Weekly, May 2013

Strange Matings: Science Fiction, Feminism, African American Voices, and Octavia E. Butler

edited by Rebecca J. Holden and Nisi Shawl

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-037-0)

Strange Matings seeks to continue Butler’s uncomfortable insights about humanity, and also to instigate new conversations about Butler and her work

“This noteworthy anthology... consists of a wide-ranging selection of sometimes-dense scholarly essays, highly readable reminiscences and personal essays, poems, correspondence, photographs, and interviews.”

Publishers Weekly, May 2013

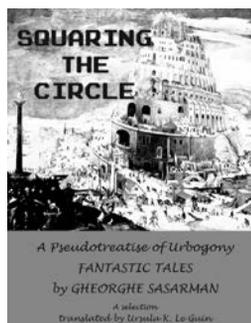

Squaring the Circle: A Pseudotreatise of Urbogony

Short fiction by Gheorghe Săsărman,
tr. Ursula K. Le Guin

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-025-7)

“These trippy, cutting 24 stories, chosen by SF/F grande dame Le Guin from a collection of 36 originally published in Romanian in 1975, inevitably draw comparisons to Italo Calvino’s Invisible Cities. Both explore society and human psyche through architectural descriptions of imaginary cities, but Săsărman’s masterfully crafted prose poems feel more immediate, serving as spellbinding descriptions of architectural impossibilities as well as slyly subversive social commentary.”

Publishers Weekly, March 2013.

Necessary Ill

A novel by Deb Taber

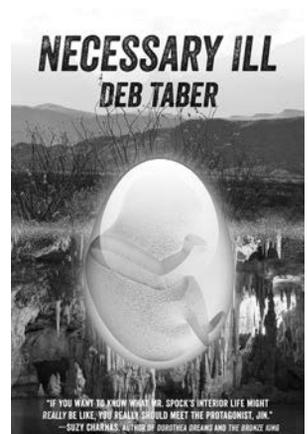

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-022-6)

“In Taber’s fascinating debut, set in an alternate near-future America, humankind fast approaches a Malthusian crisis.... Skillful pacing, unpredictable twists, nail-bitingly tense moments, and an adroit resolution make this an unusual and engrossing addition to the postapocalyptic genre.”

Publisher’s Weekly, January 2013 (starred review)

“Taber’s debut novel presents an all-too-credible dystopic future world and, in Jin, a complex character whose mind approaches the world and its priorities in a very different way. The characterization of truly genderless individuals—not androgynes or hermaphrodites—and the portrayal of an approach to the world that is both ruthless and compassionate make this an excellent candidate for book discussion groups and provide strong evidence for the availability of significant genre literature. Highly recommended.”

Library Journal, starred review, March 15, 2013

Missing Links and Secret Histories

A Selection of Wikipedia Entries from Across the Known Multiverse

edited by L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-039-4)

Ever wonder who that frequent addressee of Anglophone Nineteenth century narrators, “Dear Reader,” really was? About Nancy Drew’s mother? Or what the true story on which Edgar Allan Poe based his melodramatic “Fall of the House of Usher” was? Perhaps it never occurred to you to wonder if there might be a relationship between H.G. Wells’ Dr. Moreau and Joseph Conrad’s Col. Kurtz, or why the popularity of fairy attendance waned in the eighteenth century. Missing Links and Secret Histories elucidates these and other mysteries (some admittedly rather obscure).

“Like Wikipedia, this book is written by many contributors but forms a unified whole.... a wicked and witty sendup of how history is written today—and how some people and stories are systematically edited out of it. ...We are invited to think about whose stories disappear from the timestream, and why some ideas are so quickly erased by cultural amnesia and editorial ‘consensus.’”

Annalee Newitz, NPR, June 2013

The Moment of Change

An Anthology of Feminist Speculative Poetry

edited by Rose Lemberg

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-006-6)

"In these pages you will find works in a variety of genres — works that can be labeled mythic, fantastic, science fictional, historical, surreal, magic realist, and unclassifiable; poems by people of color and white folks; by poets based in the US, Canada, Britain, India, Spain, and the Philippines; by first- and second-generation immigrants; by the able-bodied and the disabled; by straight and queer poets who may identify as women, men, trans, and genderqueer."

from the Introduction by Rose Lemberg

"...there is a great deal of anguish in this book: the anguish of silenced voices, of the belittled and ignored, the anguish of suffering as well as the anguish of circumscribed success. However, there is also a sort of wild, free-wheeling determination bound up in and spurred on by that anguish—a desire for freedom, a desire for recognition, a desire for the moment in which the poem transcends mere text and speaks truths....

"These poems are howling, and they are whispering, and they are calmly—or madly—telling stories about what it means to be a woman, any kind of woman, any person who reaches out for the name 'woman.'"

Brit Mandelo, Tor.com, June 2012

Feminist Voices: The Best of Femspec's Creative Work, the First Ten Years

edited by Batya Susan Weinbaum

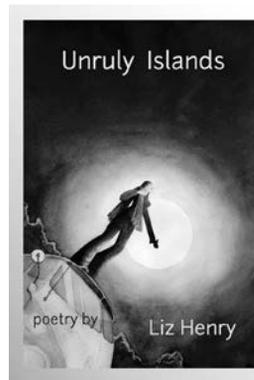

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-034-9)

Fiction by

Marleen S. Barr * Finisia Fideli * Marilyn Gale * K. A. Laity
Rebecca Lesses * Debra Jo Schleef * Gina Wisker

Poems by

Karen Alkalay-Gut * Phebe Beiser * Tara Leonard
Jane Liddell-King * Susan McLean * Barbara Minchinton
Glenis Redmond * Doreen Russell * Lorraine Schein

Unruly Islands

Poetry by Liz Henry

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-97-3)

"With all the awe and shiny of Barbarella, the breathless curiosity of Robert Hayden's American Journal, and the dismal, too-real fluorescent sheen of the corner store, Liz Henry takes the world (and the otherworld) and makes it ours in all of its signal and noise, its glorious classwar and cussmouth. "

Daphne Gottlieb, author of 15 Ways to Stay Alive and Final Girl

"Liz Henry's protean, phantasmagorical images slingshot us out and boomerang us back simultaneously over multiple plains in all directions. Immediate, futuristic, subliminal. An intimate, wild ride through a surrealistic mind field."

Maureen Owen, author of Imaginary Income and Zombie Notes

In the House of Seven Librarians

A novella by Ellen Klages
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-98-0)

When an old Carnegie library is closed, its seven librarians refuse to abandon their home. They lock the doors, and the forest grows around them like a cloak, sheltering them from the rest of the world. But their lives are changed when a book of fairy tales is found in the Book Drop, very, very overdue. The payment? A first-born child.

In the House of the Seven Librarians is a timeless tale for anyone who spent a childhood in the refuge of the public library, or who believes that a world full of books is a truly magical place.

CO-WINNER OF THE 2012 JAMES TIPTREE, JR. AWARD

Ancient, Ancient

Short fiction by Kiini Ibura Salaam

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-87-4) a Locus recommended book

"Salaam treats words like the seductive weapons they are. She wields them to weave fierce, gorgeous stories that stroke your sensibilities, challenge your preconceptions, and leave you breathless with their beauty."

Nalo Hopkinson, author of The New Moon's Arms and The Salt Roads

"Kiini Ibura Salaam is a natural-born storyteller and a gorgeous writer who chooses her characters and words with the care and skill of a poet. Her stories are transformative, wise, and vivid with the quality of fantasy and fable."

Sheree Renée Thomas, author of Shotgun Lullabies and editor of the Dark Matter anthology series

"Salaam's collection of 10 reprints and 3 original stories introduces readers to alternate worlds built around magic, sensuality, sexuality, and the search for emotional comfort, however tenuous."

Publishers Weekly, March 2012

CO-WINNER OF THE 2008 JAMES TIPTREE, JR. AWARD

Filter House

Short fiction by Nisi Shawl

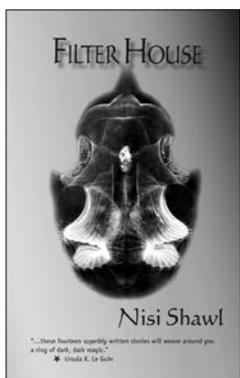

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-19-5)

Finalist for World Fantasy Award

Named in Publisher's Weekly best SF/F list

"This exquisitely rendered debut collection of 11 reprints and three originals ranges into the past and future to explore identity and belief in a dazzling variety of settings. ...The threads of folklore, religious magic, family and the search for a cohesive self are woven with power and lucidity throughout this panorama of race, magic and the body."

Publishers Weekly, June 2008 (Starred Review)

Centuries Ago and Very Fast

Short fiction by Rebecca Ore

Nominated for the 2009

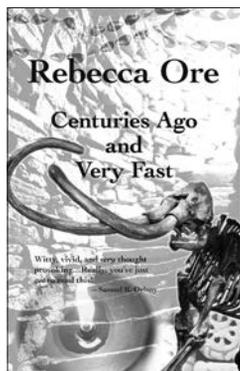

Philip K. Dick Award

Finalist for the 2010 Lambda Award

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-25-5)

"In Centuries Ago and Very Fast, Rebecca Ore pulls off an audacious experiment: using the raw language and deliberate focus on sexual encounters of 'slash' fiction to relate a series of linked episodes and moments reflection from the stupendously long life of a gay male, from his earliest days as a mammoth-hunting caveman to around the present."

Faren Miller, Locus, June 2009

Time and Robbery

by Rebecca Ore

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-87-4)

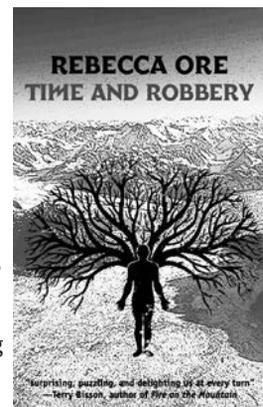

"Rebecca is up to her old tricks here: surprising, puzzling, and delighting us at every turn; and in this sleek, lean detective tale, coolly twisting the tail of Time itself."

Terry Bisson, author of Fire on the Mountain and TVA Baby

"Time and Robbery is a daring new novel by one of the field's most capable writers.

It features a gay immortal named Vel who can travel through time by sheer force of will, an ability he must use to travel back to his younger self to save his future descendents."

John DeNardo, Kirkus Book Reviews, February 2012

ANDREA HAIRSTON

Will Do Magic for Small Change

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-101-8)

Tiptree Award Honor List

29th Annual Lambda Literary Award finalist

Mythopoeic Fantasy Award for Adult Literature finalist

Cinnamon Jones dreams of stepping on stage and acting her heart out, but at 5'10" and 180 pounds, she's theatrically challenged. Her family life is a tangle of mystery and deadly secrets, and nobody is telling Cinnamon the whole truth.

"It is hard to pull away from this world of aliens meeting orishas, ghosts appearing and conversing, fiery aje, and sea monsters rising, ahosi, king's wives and warrior women, defending, gender fluidity resounding, blackbirds chronicling and ravens painting, lightning scorching and time travel transcending, wanderers flickering across dimensions and stillpoints grounding, storm fists and storm stories raining,"

Grace L. Dillon (Anishinaabe), editor of Walking the Clouds

"This is one of those books you start and realize you've been waiting to read for a long, long time without knowing it. Will Do Magic for Small Change is a deep breath, a good friend, a heartbreaking, game-changing, life-affirming, truth-telling powerhouse. I love this book." Daniel José Older, author of Half-Resurrection Blues and Salsa Nocturna

WINNER OF THE 2011 JAMES TIPTREE, JR. AWARD WINNER OF THE CARL BRANDON SOCIETY KINDRED AWARD

Redwood and Wildfire

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-52-2)

Comments from the Tiptree Jury

"This vivid and emotionally satisfying novel encompasses the life of Redwood, a hoodoo woman, as she migrates from rural Georgia to Chicago at the turn of the 20th century. While Redwood's romance with Aidan Wildfire is central to the novel, female friendship is also a major theme.... Hairston incorporates romantic love into a constellation, rather than portraying it as a solo shining star. Her characters invoke a sky where it can shine; they live and love without losing themselves in cultural expectations, prejudices, and stereotypes, all within a lovingly sketched historical frame.

"Intersections of race, class, and gender encompass these characters' entire lives. They struggle with external and internal forces around questions of gender roles, love, identity, and sexuality.... The characters in Redwood and Wildfire deftly negotiate freedom and integrity in a society where it's difficult to hold true to these things." <http://tiptree.org/>

Finalist for the Philip K. Dick Award;
Tiptree Award Honor List

MINDSCAPE

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-03-4)

"[We] engage with an ensemble cast of sufficient originality and variety to please a whole range of SFados from hard sf to queer feminist postcolonial... These folk are enmeshed in a plotline of great complexity and great swaths of originality, presented through a headlong and ferociously vivid mise-en-scene.

New York Review of Science Fiction,
October 2006

"...a dazzling work of science fiction... an intoxicating, almost hallucinogenic journey into a vision of Earth's future..." The Women's Times, February 2006

Lonely Stardust: Two Plays, a Speech, and Eight Essays

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-051-6)

Taken together, these essays and plays broadcast a message of hope and intelligence that defiantly insists that our ability and desire to tell stories defines our humanity and is one of our most valuable resources.

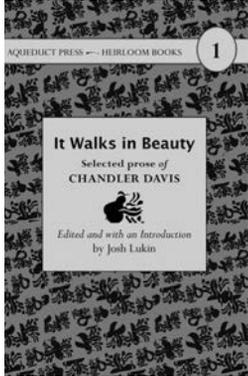

"... Hairston shows us how different narratives lend power to different perspectives. It's not everyday that we get a collection that includes movie reviews and the scripts for plays.... They form a cohesive whole and illuminate multiple facets of this award winning author.... Reading these essays makes me appreciate her storytelling all the more....

Los Angeles Review of Books, Karen Burnham, September 2014

Aqueduct Press's series of Heirloom Books aims to bring back into print and preserve work that has helped make feminist science fiction what it is today — work that though clearly of its time is still pleasurable to read, work that is thought-provoking, work that can still speak powerfully to readers. The series takes its name from the seeds of older strains of vegetables, so valuable and in danger of being lost. Our hope is to keep these books from being lost, as works that do not make it into the canon so often are.

It Walks in Beauty

Selected prose of Chandler Davis

edited by Josh Lukin
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-37-9)

"This is a terrific book. I can't remember the last time I have seen fiction, especially science fiction, put so richly in context. It Walks in Beauty introduces us to a remarkable man, gives us insight into the American science fiction community of the 1940s and '50s, and reminds us how much damage the McCarthy era of red hunts did to ordinary human lives and to American civilization. Among the stories, I especially like...'It Walks in Beauty,' an utterly creepy and true description of sex roles in '50s America. I was there. I remember those sex roles, just as I remember the red hunts. We have not recovered yet. Nor will we recover until the ideas and integrity of people like Chandler Davis are incorporated into our history and culture."

Eleanor Arnason, author of Ring of Swords and A Woman of the Iron People

Dorothea Dreams

A novel by
Suzy McKee Charnas
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-39-3)

"For me, Dorothea Dreams is the most purely beautiful of [Suzy McKee Charnas's] novels. It is certainly the one that speaks most directly to my own fears and obsessions. When I read it, I am proud to be a woman, proud to be an artist, even proud to be asthmatic and mortal and fallible, because they're all part of being human. And that's what art and literature are about, aren't they? The glory and shame of the human condition."

from the Introduction by Delia Sherman, author of The Porcelain Dove and co-editor of Interfictions: An Anthology of Interstitial Writing

The Merrill Theory of Lit'ry Criticism

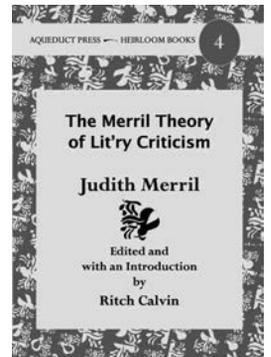

by Judith Merrill
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-093-6)

"The Merrill Theory of Lit'ry Criticism is simple: any story I can't enjoy as much the second — or fourth — time as the first does not deserve to be printed more than once."

— from Merrill's review of Theodore Sturgeon's "The Other Man" (Year's Best, 1957)

Although Judith Merrill is best known for her short fiction and her novels (in collaboration with C. M. Kornbluth), she wrote a great deal of nonfiction. She wrote about SF fandom. She wrote about space and space exploration. And she wrote about science fiction. This volume collects Merrill's nonfiction from The Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction, Extrapolation, and her Year's Best anthologies. In these collected pieces, Merrill works through and develops her definition of "S-F" and what makes S-F good. She chronicles changes within the genre, including the emergence of the New Wave. And she provides a history of the genre: its writers, its publishers, and its magazines.

Complimentary expanded E-book (nearly double-size) included with print book.

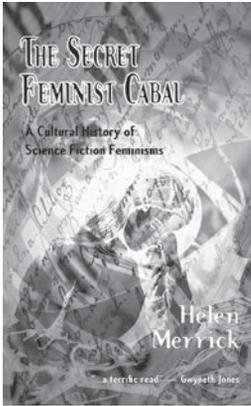

New Amazonia A Foretaste of the Future

A novella by Elizabeth Burgoyne Corbett with an Introduction
by Alexis Lothian
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-048-6)

"Corrupt, Degraded, Rotten to the core is British Civilisation, and yet we find women who ought to know better, actually pretending that they are perfectly contented with the existing order of things," declares the narrator of New Amazonia. Raging against an antifeminist statement signed by "ladies" opposing the cause of women's suffrage, a writer falls asleep in 1889 and awakens, in company with a hashish-smoking "masher," in a future world run by women. New Amazonia tells the story of how this future world came to be and reveals its shiny, futuristic marvels as well as its government-administered horrors.

WINNER OF THE WILLIAM ATHELING JR. AWARD, 2010

The Secret Feminist Cabal: A Cultural History of Science Fiction Feminisms

by Helen Merrick (ISBN: 978-1-933500-33-1)

Nominated for a Hugo Award; Tiptree Award Honor List

"Merrick boldly goes where no...academician has gone before and brings back an entertaining tale of women writers, editors, publishers and fans. It's SF convention girl-gossip channeled by a university scholar. The results are bracing, well-informed, and sort of shocking. Literature and feminism entwined in an unusual manner in that primordial soup. What emerged was, not surprisingly, sort of magical... You'll meet a lot of wonderfully outspoken women in this book, writers, critics and, critically, fans."

Rick Kleffel, The Agony Column, November 2009

Narrative Power: Encounters, Celebrations, Struggles,

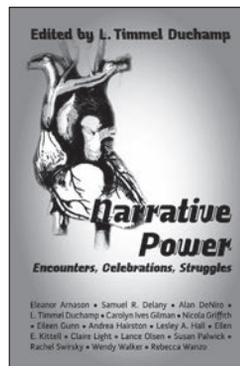

Essays edited by L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-34-8)

"The volume's subtitle—Encounters, Celebrations, Struggles—explains why its essays linger in the mind. Its writers have skin in the game. Many of their insights have that bittersweet flavor peculiar to autobiographical accounts.

"...Dachau started out as an artist's colony. Joseph Goebbels, Reich Minister of Propaganda and Hitler's BFF, started out as a novelist. Narratives do strange things to people and places. There is no final protection against malign narratives and the Pied Pipers of history except the steady pressure of conversation. We owe a debt of gratitude to L. Timmel Duchamp, Aqueduct Press, and the many contributors. Volumes such this keep us alert, awake. May its tribe increase."

Anil Menon, Strange Horizons, August 2010

A Locus recommended book;
Tiptree Award Honor List

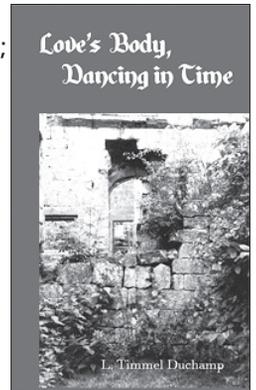

Love's Body, Dancing in Time

Short fiction by
L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-1-8)

"Duchamp's five unusual, provocative love stories featuring strong, memorable heroines can haunt a reader long after the last page is turned... Supremely intelligent and confident, Duchamp infuses her consistently sensual prose with mystery and beauty."

Booklist "STAR" Review, March 2004

Dangerous Space

Short fiction by Kelley Eskridge

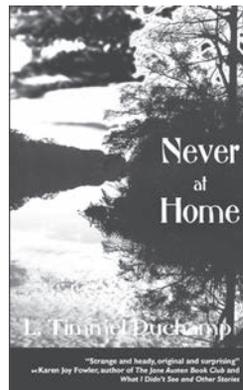

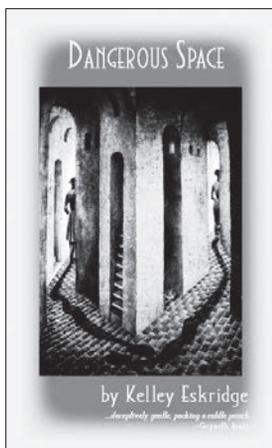

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-13-3)

Tiptree Award Honor List

Final ballot for 2008
Nebula

"Eskridge is my favorite kind of science speculative fiction writer, the sort who is very interested in using the tropes of the genre to externalize that which we'd prefer not to discuss and force it into the spotlight."

Rick Kleffel, The Agony Column,
March 2007

Tiptree Award Honor List Never at Home

Short fiction by
L. Timmel Duchamp
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-74-4)

"...The stories within are strange and heady, original and surprising. In them, the Duchamp heroine often finds herself pulled into some fascinating new world. The Duchamp reader is in the same position, though much happier to be there. Highly recommended."

Karen Joy Fowler, author of The Jane Austen Book Club and What I Didn't See and Other Stories

"L. Timmel Duchamp's stories are intense, tricky, heartfelt, and most of all, interesting; they take on big themes in a clear way, but also at the same time swirl with complications, moments of poetry, life itself."

Kim Stanley Robinson, author of Galileo's Dream and the Mars Trilogy

"These stories take us places we haven't been before. Never at Home once again showcases a unique, essential voice."

Jeff VanderMeer author of Finch and The Third Bear

THE MARQ'SSAN CYCLE

BY L. TIMMEL DUCHAMP

AWARDED SPECIAL HONOR BY 2009 TIPTREE JURY

WHAT WOULD IT TAKE TO CHANGE THE WAY POSTMODERN SOCIETIES WORK?

BOOK ONE: ALANYA TO ALANYA

(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-6-3)

Seattle, February 2076. The Marq'ssan bring business as usual to a screeching halt all over the world, and Professor Kay Zeldin joins Robert Sedgewick, US Chief of Security Services, in his war against the invaders. Soon Kay is making rather than writing history. But as she goes head-to-head against the Marq'ssan, long-buried secrets of her past resurface, and her conflicts with Sedgewick and Security Services multiply. She faces terrifying choices. Her world view, her very grip on reality, is turned inside out.

"The coupling of real thoughtfulness and rip-roaring excitement is as rare in science fiction as in any other genre. But here...they're locked together in the most exciting — and certainly the most intelligent! — tale of alien invasion I've read in decades."

Samuel R. Delany, author of Dhalgren

BOOK TWO: RENEGADE

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-04-1)

August 2077. The Pacific Northwest Free Zone, having survived the first year of its existence, faces both internal and external challenges. The US's Security Services has deployed a paramilitary covert action team to capture Kay Zeldin, Security's most wanted renegade, and destabilize the Zone's civil order.

"...pulse-pounding page-turner, based on Duchamp's research into the shenanigans and evil-doings of our own favorite set of spies, the CIA.... this novel is not about current history or anything resembling it. You do, indeed, get hints of the truly alien. They're the seeds of change."

Rick Kleffel, The Agony Column, April 2006

BOOK THREE: TSUNAMI

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-09-6)

Spring 2086. In a world recovering from war, the Free Zone's Co-op faces a crisis within when ugly, long-buried secrets are dragged into the painful light of day. In the US, the Executive, now reunited, turns its attention to reconsolidating the power it has lost to regional warlords, even as popular discontent with executive rule spreads.

"Duchamp's powerful use of language and her gift for creating unforgettable and complex characters make this novel a dark and suspenseful read."

A.M. Dellamonica, Science Fiction Weekly, January 2007

BOOK FOUR: BLOOD IN THE FRUIT

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-15-7)

October 2086. The Marq'ssan Fleet returns to determine whether Earth should be quarantined, and a young alien resorts to violent, unilateral action. Young Alexandra Sedgewick takes a lover and dreams of escaping her father's fortress and joining the renegade women. The US Executive resorts to desperate measures. The conflict over human rights spreads like a global wildfire.

"The novel—the series for that matter—is a distillation of political and ethical philosophy, a commentary on the importance and frailty of human rights, a feminist dystopia, and something of an adventure story..."

Don D'Amassa, Critical Mass, September 2007

"The latest book in the Marq'ssan Cycle might just be the best yet, part of a series that is the most important political SF published in the last decade."

Jeff VanderMeer, www.omnivoracious.com

BOOK FIVE: STRETTO

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-18-8)

The final volume of the Marq'ssan Cycle opens in January 2096. In the US, career-line women holding positions of importance in the Executive attempt to enact a reformist, liberal agenda.

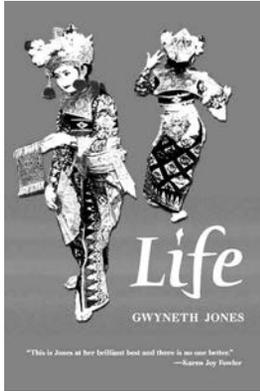

"Like its predecessors, this is very much a novel of ideas and personal relations rather than of action or adventure.... If you enjoy books designed to stimulate thought as well as entertain you, Duchamp's speculations about the forms of government and the ways in which people in power interact should prove very rewarding."

Donald D'Amassa, Critical Mass, April 2008

"The final volume in the Marq'ssan series encourages its readers to write beyond the ending. There are no gift-wrapped resolutions or easy redemptions on offer, rather there is a clear-sighted focus on the always-unfolding consequences — intended and unintended — of personal and political action taken. This is a series that is deeply invested in social transformation while resisting any temptation to consolation."

Joan Haran, author of Human Cloning in the Media

Winner of the 2004
Philip K. Dick Award

Life

A novel by Gwyneth Jones

(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-2-5)

"[T]his is a rich, potent, challenging, and original novel which does exactly what we always demand of the very finest science fiction: it makes us think about ourselves, about our future and how we want to be."

Paul Kincaid, Foundation, Autumn 2005

"Remarkably rich and sophisticated...Life [is] a bold but accurate title for a work that anchors itself in the commonest meaning of the term (the old 24/7) and subtly weaves its way toward the larger scientific and philosophical versions that we tend to give capital letters and a lot more respect."

Locus, November 2004

The Universe of Things

Short fiction by Gwyneth Jones (ISBN: 978-1-933500-44-7)

A Locus recommended book; Tiptree Award Honor List

These stories span Jones's career, from "The Eastern Succession," first published in 1988, to the recently published "Collision." Each story opens a window into a richly depicted culture in which its intelligent, resourceful characters struggle to make sense of the mysteries of their world.

"Jones's sharp writing forces the reader to reconsider the standard building blocks of SF in light of real human history, sociology, and radical analyses of power structures."

Publishers Weekly, November 2010

Winner of a Locus Award, 2009

Cheek by Jowl

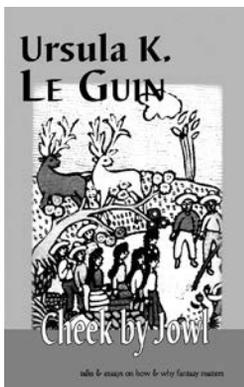

Essays by Ursula K. Le Guin

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-27-0)

"Ursula K. Le Guin may be on the short list of great writers to emerge from our little corner of the map, but she's also something of a skirmisher... and she continues to ask questions here, mostly in the context of children's and YA literature, with the unflagging passion and clarity we've come to expect from her critical writing... In the war to preserve the imagination, you don't win with just a couple of skirmishes. You have to keep at it, and Le Guin does."

Gary K. Wolfe, Locus, April 2009

IMAGINATION/ SPACE

Essays and Talks on Fiction, Feminism,
Technology, and Politics

by Gwyneth Jones

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-32-4)

"Not only is Gwyneth Jones a brilliant author, she's a fabulous essayist... This is a must read if you care about both, either, genre literature in any form, the exploration of self through literature, or a host of other topics.... The essays in this collection are clear and lucid, insightful as all get out, and totally accessible.... Gwyneth Jones's mastery of her subjects and engaging writing pulls me in time and again, leaving me struck by how much more comprehensible the tangled web of speculative fiction is when seen through her eyes."

Ernest Lilley, SF Revu, December 2009

80! Memories & Reflections on Ursula K. Le Guin

edited by Karen Joy Fowler & Debbie Notkin

Nominated for a Locus Award

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-43-0)

"Written as a birthday tribute to one of speculative fiction's most beloved forerunners, this slim volume honors Le Guin with accounts that detail how several friends and former students came to love her work. Evidence abounds of Le Guin's generous, inquiring, and feminist spirit, and her rare ability to show us

'our own world, made strange and familiar.' ...Fowler and Notkin include poetry, short fiction, and essays that build a cumulative portrait extending beyond the basic facts of a life and, less overtly, examines the relationship between reading and writing, twining the pleasures of absorbing language with the act of learning the craft."

Publishers Weekly, January 2011

Hwarhath Stories: Transgressive Tales

Short Fiction by Aliens by Eleanor Arnason (ISBN: 978-1-61976-095-0)

Humanity has encountered only one other species able to travel among the stars. This species, who call themselves the hwarhath, or “people,” are also the only intelligent species so far encountered. Of course, we interest and puzzle and disturb each other...

from the translator’s Introduction

“One of the strongest collections of science fiction stories you’re ever likely to find. It’s hard to think of anybody other than Ursula K. Le Guin who has written better anthropological science fiction than Eleanor Arnason, and this very strong collection gathers some of the best stories published by anybody during the last two decades.”

Gardner Dozois

TOMB OF THE FATHERS A Lydia Duluth Adventure

A novel by Eleanor Arnason
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-36-2)

In this witty romp of a planetary romance, Lydia Duluth joins a motley crew of intergalactic travelers to explore the long lost homeworld of the Atch, who have a mysterious history they’d like to keep buried on the planet they left behind. But the expedition goes alarmingly awry when a rogue AI, determined to keep the planet and its system quarantined, destroys the stargate, and the expedition is stranded on the planet. The travelers soon encounter the native Atch and discover the Tomb of the Fathers—and what can happen when childcare becomes the dominant issue for a species.

Tiptree Award Honor List

Big Mama Stories

Short fiction by
Eleanor Arnason
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-029-5)

One thing you can say for sure about Big Mamas and Big Poppas: their lives are never dull. The quirky, nearly omnipotent members of the colorful tribe of Big Mamas and Big Poppas rove the Universe, able to leap vast expanses of time and space in a single bound. Little can harm a Mama or Poppa, except large, mythological monsters and world-historical trends. And yet they do have their problems.

E-book Editions: The early novels of ELEANOR ARNASON

The Sword Smith

The Sword Smith tells the tale of Limper, a master sword smith running from an oppressive boss-king who forced him to make junk, and Nargri, his young dragon companion. In a new Afterword written for this edition, Arnason describes the characters as “mostly fairly ordinary people, rather than heroes, wizards, and kings. Their problems are ordinary problems, rather than a gigantic struggle between good and evil.”

Daughter of the Bear King

Not your everyday fantasy, Daughter of the Bear King clearly arises from Second Wave Feminism. A middle-aged woman suddenly discovers that she has a role in an epic struggle between shoddiness and integrity. And her battle flows across time and universes.

To the Resurrection Station

A moldering mansion full of secrets, a disturbing master of the house, a young and innocent heroine, and the mansion’s robot servant, who drives the story. A motley crew escapes to Earth (now overrun by intelligent machines, except for a clearly crazy space port) where they land and begin exploring the ruins of New York City.

In a new Afterword, Arnason describes Resurrection Station as about people who can’t fit into social roles. “Claud can’t be a traditional Native. Belinda can’t be a straight young woman or a traditional heroine. Shortpaw is not an acceptable giant mutant rat. Without being especially heroic, they all refuse to give in or give up.”

E-book Editions: Early Novels of Rebecca Ore and Gwyneth Jones

The Alien Trilogy

Rebecca Ore

Also by Rebecca Ore

Vol. 1 ∞ Becoming Alien

Finalist for the 1989 Philip K. Dick Award • Nominated for the John W. Campbell Award • Nominated for the 1988 Locus Awards: FIRST NOVEL

"In this the first book, we meet a young Tom Gentry. On his Virginia farm he encounters drug lords, rude locals, and other strange creatures (specifically a young alien by the name of Mica). Shortly after meeting Mica Tom has a run-in with the local constabulary, which leads him to believe that a trip out of town might be beneficial.

Roy Sloan (Amazon Review)

Vol. 2 ∞ Being Alien

Finalist for the 1990 Philip K. Dick Award
Nominated for the 1990 Locus Awards: SF NOVEL.

"Tom Red-Clay has grown up in the galaxy. Now, in the stunning sequel to BECOMING ALIEN, Tom must return to Earth on a secret mission for the Federation. His marching orders: "Three goals, two obligatory, one optional: research japan, go to dinner with two humans, find a wife..."

"Set down in Berkeley, California, a world indeed no less strange to him than Karst, Tom must decipher the intrigues of humans and aliens alike—with the fate of Earth itself riding on his every move."

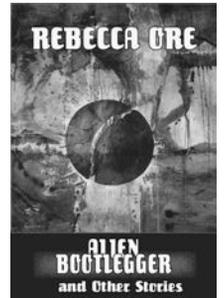

anonymous (Amazon Review)

Vol. 3. ∞ Human to Human

"The last book of the trilogy doesn't pull any punches. Red Clay is a conflicted character...on the one hand he hates having come from a world of war and prejudice... on the other hand he slowly and painfully comes to terms of who he is and how far he's gone."

Vincent Westerband (Amazon Review)

Alien Bootlegger and Other Stories

An SF Masterpiece of the 1990s

The Aleutian Trilogy

by Gwyneth Jones

One of the most conceptually, historically, and socially complex sf trilogies ever published is now available as E-books from Aqueduct Press.

Spirit, or The Princess of Bois Dormant

by Gwyneth Jones

A space opera set in Gwyneth Jones's Aleutian universe, revisions Dumas's The Count of Monte Cristo and further explores the workings and consequences of the series' Buonarotti Transit.

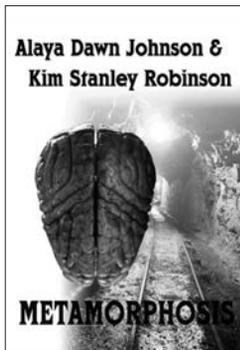

The WisCon Guests of Honor Series

Metamorphosis

Alaya Dawn Johnson & Kim Stanley Robinson

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-089-9)

Metamorphosis offers a taste of work from WisCon 39 Guests of Honor Alaya Dawn Johnson and Kim Stanley Robinson, as well as an interview of Johnson by Justine Larbalestier and an interview of Robinson by Jeanne Gomoll.

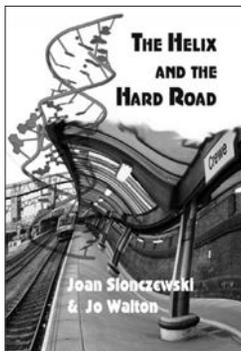

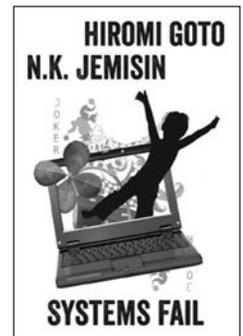

Systems Fail

by Hiromi Goto and N.K. Jemisin

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-061-5)

Goto's poignant "What Isn't Remembered" imagines a mother, holding out against technological pressures in a future in which people delete undesirable memories. In Goto's "The Sleep Clinic for Troubled Souls," Desdemona, "dying of loneliness," is driven to seek out an improbable clinic because for her, "sleep is like a drink of cool water...but there's nothing but sand everywhere I look." In Jemisin's Hugo finalist "Non-Zero Probabilities," Adele wakes up to a frighteningly new day in NYC, in which Murphy's Law suddenly clamps down with a vengeance. Jemisin's series of essays brings us incisive critical thinking about race and gender politics in the sf/f field at large.

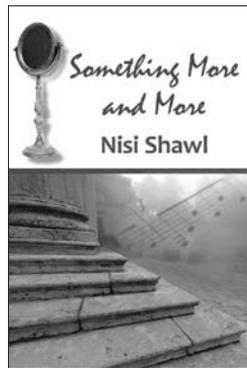

The Helix and the Hard Road

Joan Slonczewski & Jo Walton

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-041-7)

Slonczewski's essay "I Have No Time, and I Must Write" and her short fiction "Tuberculosis Bacteria Joins the UN," and a previously mostly unpublished collection of Walton's poetry, "Rivers and Robots." In addition, the authors talk at length with interviewers knowledgeable about their work.

Something More and More

Nisi Shawl

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-75-1)

Stories about hoodoo women and musicians, and essays about reading, crowns, and the work of Octavia E. Butler. And a new interview of Nisi by Eileen Gunn, in which she talks about editing, being edited, and the competing charms of writing and making music.

Impolitic!

Andrea Hairston & Debbie Notkin

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-009-7)

Notkin samples her incisive blog posts on body politics, examining the narratives told about our bodies and how we are told to live in and think about them. Hairston offers us a short fiction, "Griots of the Galaxy," and her essay "Prophetic Artists," looks to Octavia Butler and others to illuminate the immanent possibilities of the here and now.

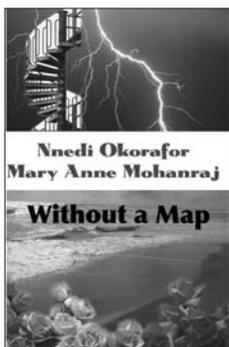

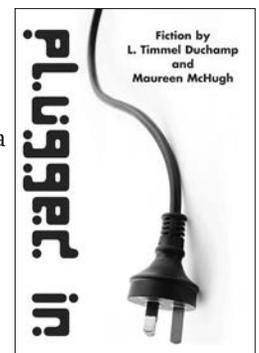

Plugged In

L. Timmel Duchamp & Maureen McHugh

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-22-5)

In Maureen McHugh's "Kingdom of the Blind," Sydney, one of the codemonkeys who maintain DMS, the software system that keeps the physical plants of the Benevola Health Network running, suspects the recent outages in the system may be a sign of the system's sentience rather than a simple corruption of its code.

In L. Timmel Duchamp's "The Man Who Plugged In," Howard Nies becomes the first male to plug into a Siemens Carapace. "Its clean, round lines and soft, silvery matte finish can't fail to reassure both the parents and the gestational carrier who wears it that the child within is getting better care and protection than any naturally gestated child..."

Without a Map

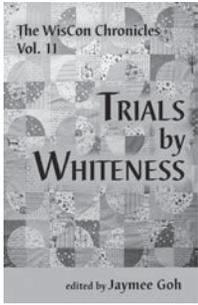

Mary Anne Mohanraj & Nnedi Okorafor

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-41-6)

Without a Map comprises a long excerpt from Okorafor's book Stormbringer and a varied medley of works from Mary Ann Mohanraj, including poetry, bits of nonfiction travelogue, and fiction—speculative and otherwise.

The WisCon Chronicles Series

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 11
Trials by Whiteness edited by Jaymee Goh
 (ISBN: 978-1-61976-129-2)

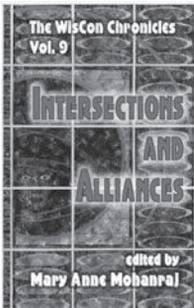

In short fiction, poetry, personal essays, academic thinkpieces, Twitter rants, and informal Q&As, this volume begins conversations on liberation and limitations, intergenerational and international conflicts, intra-community and internal tensions.

WisCon Chronicles, Vol 10:
Social Justice (Redux)
 edited by Margaret McBride
 (ISBN: 978-1-61976-113-1)

“We need diverse stories, we need a million mirrors of different shapes and sizes. Not just so we can see ourselves. So that they can see us through our own eyes.”
 from Alaya Dawn Johnson’s GoH Speech, WisCon 39

WisCon Chronicles, Vol 9
Intersections and Alliances
 edited by Mary Anne Mohanraj
 (ISBN: 978-1-61976-087-5)

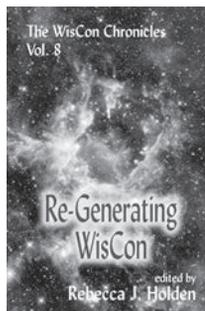

“We’re living through an intense time of social change, and a variety of questions arise as we have these often difficult conversations about feminism, race, gender, sexual orientation, disability, and more.”

from the Introduction by Mary Anne Mohanraj

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol 8
Re-Generating WisCon

edited by Rebecca J. Holden
 (ISBN: 978-1-61976-061-5)

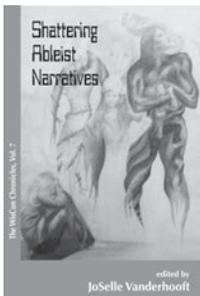

The poems, stories, blogs, essays, and speeches within these pages explore the generations and feminism(s) of WisCon. Various “waves” of feminism are discussed, alluded to, and chronicled, through vitally important tellings and retellings.

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol 7
Shattering Ableist Narratives

edited by JoSelle Vanderhooft
 (ISBN: 978-1-61976-042-4)

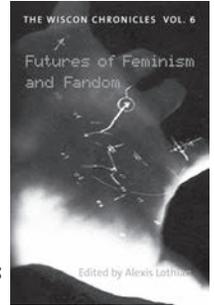

In the spirit of WisCon’s continuing mission to boldly go where no con has gone before in breaking down barriers, this version of The WisCon Chronicles seeks to smash ableist narratives that keep disabled people from full participation in the present we inhabit and the speculative futures we hope to create.

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 6
Futures of Feminism and Fandom

edited by Alexis Lothian
 (ISBN: 978-1-61976-008-0)

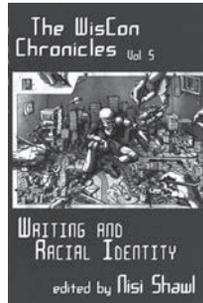

Celebrating, challenging, and discussing the varied faces of WisCon 36. As with previous volumes, it does not shy away from controversy.

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 5
Writing and Racial Identity

edited by Nisi Shawl
 (ISBN: 978-1-933500-73-7)

“There was never a doubt in my mind as to the theme of this fifth volume of the WisCon Chronicles.... ‘Writing and racial identity’.... It seemed to me a thoroughly WisConsinese topic...”
 Nisi Shawl

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 4
Voices of WisCon

edited by Sylvia Kelso
 (ISBN: 978-1-933500-40-9)

The voices of WisCon sing out once again...widely diverse, not only in what events the writer attended, what he or she saw and felt, but in the writers themselves.

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 3
Carnival of Feminist SF

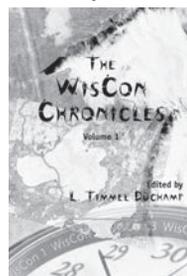

edited by Liz Henry
 (ISBN: 978-1-933500-30-0)

A cross section of the diverse conversations happening at WisCon and beyond.

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 2

edited by
 L. Timmel Duchamp and Eileen Gunn
 (ISBN: 978-1-933500-20-1)

The WisCon Chronicles, Vol. 1

edited by L. Timmel Duchamp
 (ISBN: 1-933500-14-X)

Supported by a grant from the Society for the Furtherance & Study of Fantasy & Science Fiction [SF3].

Original Block Print of Mary Shelley by Justin Kempton: www.writersmugs.com

Conversation Pieces

Celebrating the Speculations and Visions of the Grand Conversation of Feminist SF

The feminist engaged with sf is passionately interested in challenging the way things are, passionately determined to understand how everything works. It is my constant sense of our feminist-sf present as a grand conversation that enables me to trace its existence into the past and from there see its trajectory extending into our future. A genealogy for feminist sf would not constitute a chart depicting direct lineages but would offer us an ever-shifting, fluid mosaic, the individual tiles of which we will probably only ever partially access. What could be more in the spirit of feminist sf than to conceptualize a genealogy that explicitly manifests our own communities across not only space but also time?

Aqueduct's small paperback series, Conversation Pieces, aims to both document and facilitate the "grand conversation." The Conversation Pieces series presents a wide variety of texts, including short fiction (which may not always be sf and may not necessarily even be feminist), essays, speeches, manifestoes, poetry, interviews, correspondence, and group discussions. Many of the texts are reprinted material, but many are new, too. The grand conversation reaches at least as far back as Mary Shelley and extends, in our speculations and visions, into the continually-created future. In Jonathan Goldberg's words, "To look forward to the history that will be, one must look at and retell the history that has been told." And that is what Conversation Pieces is all about.

L. Timmel Duchamp

Jonathan Goldberg, "The History That Will Be" in Louise Fradenburg and Carla Freccero, eds., Premodern Sexualities (New York and London: Routledge, 1996)

Vol. 1

The Grand Conversation

Essays by L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-3-2)

The Grand Conversation collects four essays by L. Timmel Duchamp that explore her conceptualization of feminist sf as a conversation. These essays, which have been previously published in the scholarly journals Foundation and Extrapolation, lay out the thinking behind the Conversation Pieces series.

Save on a Conversation Pieces Series Subscription

Engage in the Conversation:

10 volumes for $80

(available for USA shipments only)

Any 10 volumes — those already published and/or new ones as they arrive hot off the press.

Questions? Contact us at info@aqueductpress.com

How to subscribe:

By check: Fill out and mail in the enclosed order form or go to the mail-order form on our website.

By PayPal: Directly from our website: www.aqueductpress.com

Vol. 2

With Her Body

Short Fiction by Nicola Griffith with an Afterword by L. Timmel Duchamp

(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-4-9)

Finalist for the Lambda SF award, 2004

Nicola Griffith writes about being as well as doing — about life and love and the fears that keep us from having what we want. About feeling stuff and making decisions, not sitting at home like a passive lump.

"...haunting, fiercely women-oriented tales of lesbians making their way in one world or another."

Books To Watch Out For by Carol Seajay

Vol. 3

Changeling

A Novella by Nancy Jane Moore

(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-5-6)

The city provides a feast for the eyes. It is a place of art, of music, of beautiful people going about their fascinating lives. The city has its dark corners, of course, but these are not the places a tourist needs to visit, and even a resident can live comfortably while (almost) ignoring them.

"...an eminently satisfying, sweetly unraveling story centering on a wheelchair using woman who rolls through walls into a dimension her parents frequented when young..." Books to Watch Out For, Lesbian Edition

Vol. 4

Counting on Wildflowers

An Entanglement by Kim Antieau
(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-7-0)

These essays serve as witness to what has and is still happening in Iraq and in this country. They show us how to speak what we know, what we see, feel, hear, experience, even when we see no real changes in the here and now. And they invite us to seek out joy — to live fully with open hearts and passionate souls, in constant communion with the Earth.

Vol. 5

The Traveling Tide

Short Fiction by Rosaleen Love
(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-9-4)

In this collection of primarily environmental or ecological fantasy, Rosaleen Love goes where other nature writers fear to tread; she is a truly feral nature writer. The stories play with the notion of vast aeons of time — time as experienced (or not experienced) differently at the various levels of being, from the glacial to the organic, from the geological and the ecological to the human and post-human levels.

Vol. 6

The Adventures of the Faithful Counselor

A Narrative Poem by Anne Sheldon
(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-8-7)

The Queen of Heaven and Earth has no easy job, not even in 3000 B.C.E. when both heaven and earth were smaller. Even within the gates of her own city Uruk, the far-sighted and beautiful goddess Inanna requires the assistance of her lovers Gilgamesh and Ninshubur.

“Anne Sheldon’s use of vivid imagery, strong narrative voice, and cleverly placed anachronisms gives new life and a new perspective to an ancient tale.”

MultiVerse Speculative Poetry Reviews, June 2005

Vol. 7

Ordinary People

A Collection by Eleanor Arnason
(ISBN: 978-0-9746559-0-1)

Spanning thirty years, this volume collects six stories, one poem, and a WisCon Guest of Honor speech.

“It is quite a retrospective collection, with stories going back to as early as 1974...[and provides] a new look at the range of her fiction, and more good reason than ever to wish for more new stories from Eleanor Arnason.”

Tangent Online, June 2005

Vol. 8

Writing the Other

Bridging Cultural Differences for Successful Fiction by Nisi Shawl and Cynthia Ward
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-00-3)

“Along with personal experience and examples, the book presents exercises to help writers step outside their own ROAARS. The exercises, developed from workshops the authors have conducted, reward writers with learning more about developing characters—including those who are “just like” themselves—and understanding past and present stereotypes.”

Paula Guran, Writers.com Newsletter, Vol 9, no. 3

Vol. 9

Alien Bootlegger

A Novella by Rebecca Ore with a new introduction by Michael Swanwick
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-01-0)

In Franklin County, when times get tough, people often to turn to bootlegging. But that’s a perilous way to make a living, since bootlegging is both illegal and tightly regulated by distributors like Dennis DeSpain. So when the mysterious and scary alien who calls himself “Turk” openly sets up as an independent operator, flouting both the law and the distributors, all hell breaks loose.

Vol. 10

The Red Rose Rages (Bleeding)

A Short Novel by L. Timmel Duchamp
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-02-7)

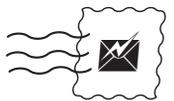

“Duchamp does a marvelous job of portraying the intensely claustrophobic Facility A7, a closed universe so much to and of itself that the real world, which the author only occasionally and nightmarishly evokes, fades to insignificance....”

Michael Levy, New York Review of Science Fiction, August 2006

Vol. 11

Talking Back: Epistolary Fantasies

Edited by L. Timmel Duchamp
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-05-8)

Talking Back showcases the epistolary fantasies of eighteen writers, among whom number Carol Emshwiller, Leslie What, Eileen Gunn, and Rosaleen Love. Invited to “talk back,” the authors penned love letters, fans letters, angry letters, thoughtful letters; letters to dead people, letters to fictional characters, letters to corporations. These are letters that will never be sent, intimate and personal, fantasies the authors have agreed to share with their readers.

“...great fun to read, and thought-provoking too. What more could one ask from a book, or a letter?”

Strange Horizons, January 2007

$$\Delta p \Delta q \geq \hbar/2$$

Absolute Uncertainty

Short Fiction by Lucy Sussex

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-06-5)

“Strongly feminist, linguistically muscular, and historically erudite, Lucy Sussex is an Australian writer who deserves to be more widely read outside of her home country....”

Strange Horizons, September 2006

Vol. 13

Candle in a Bottle

A Novella by Carolyn Ives Gilman

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-07-2)

The savants of Institut Sorel, the world center of information mechanics, compute the governing algorithms that give all things their shape and structure; the voyants receive and sort enormous amounts of information. And now the savants say that the whole world, on the brink of a phase transition, is about to change, such that the long-term equilibrium that has locked the world into an “order crisis” will give way to a period of chaos.

“Interesting intellectual political intrigue, high-minded science, and a climax that moves along at a brisk pace makes...Candle in a Bottle a trip worth taking.”

Tangent Online, July 2006

Vol. 14

Knots

Short Fiction by Wendy Walker

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-08-9)

“It’s [Walker’s] eccentric mingling of ideas and imagery, sensory impressions of a world almost disturbingly alive, that distinguish her work from anyone else’s.”

Locus, January 2007

“Read her work for the history, the complex tales, and the vivid language offered — where the true beauty of Walker’s work lies.”

Tangent Online, December 2006

Vol. 15

Naomi Mitchison: A Profile of Her Life and Work

A Monograph by Lesley A. Hall

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-10-2)

Naomi Mitchison lived an adventurous, politically engaged, and well-examined life, even as she wrote dozens of novels and works of nonfiction. From campaigning for women’s right to information about and the means of birth control to running for Parliament, from practicing “open marriage” in her own life to exploring a range of sexual arrangements in her fiction, for all of her 101 years, Mitchison embraced change as few people ever manage to do.

We, Robots

A Novella by Sue Lange

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-11-9)

“[...]a hilarious critique of hyper-consumerist and protect-the-children-from-all-dangers-real-or-perceived-at-all-costs-always culture and a pointed meditation on the uses of pain, physical and emotional, in the formation of character, personality and ambition.”

Racheline Maltese, Books Correspondent for Gather.com, October 2007

Vol. 17

Making Love in Madrid

A Novella by Kimberly Todd Wade

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-12-6)

“A fantasia of amnesia, of lives that need filling, of writers of every tense, of talent and dry lemons and melted cheese; of giggling and tangled sheets and denture adhesive, competition and tenderness, a bloodless bullfight, the power of a giant smile to diminish greatness — a modern mannerist story around a story.”

Anna Tambour, author of The Spotted Lily and Monterra’s Deliciosa and Other Tales

Vol. 18

Of Love and Other Monsters

A Novella by Vandana Singh

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-16-4)

“In this perfect gem of a novella, a teenager named Arun survives a fire to find he has amnesia but also the ability to see into other people’s minds. When he comes into contact with Rahul, who has the same power, his friend Janani, who has helped him regain some semblance of his former life, warns him to flee, even though Rahul may have knowledge that can help Arun. [A] wise, luminous tale from an accomplished storyteller...”

Jeff VanderMeer, Realms of Fantasy, April 2008

Vol. 19

Aliens of the Heart

Short Fiction

by Carolyn Ives Gilman

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-17-1)

In these stories, Betty Lindstrom imagines leaving her husband in the town of Lost Road; Susan Abernathy undertakes to humanize Captain Groton, the alien charged with removing the residents of Okanoggan Falls; Galena Pittman seeks to recover her lover, Thea, from the mountains of Montana; and the Conservator, charged with preserving the many layers of the map of the great river, discovers that the relationship between map and landscape is more complicated than she had thought.

Vol. 20

Voices From Fairyland:
The Fantastical Poems of Mary
Coleridge, Charlotte Mew, and Sylvia Townsend Warner

Edited by Theodora Goss
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-21)

Voices from Fairyland collects fantastical poems by Mary Coleridge, Charlotte Mew, Sylvia Townsend Warner, and Theodora Goss, and offers four new essays by Goss.

Vol. 21

My Death

A Novella by Lisa Tuttle
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-23-2)

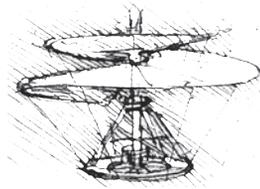

“The satisfying mystery Tuttle weaves, and all the juicy little hints she buries throughout the plot, demonstrate the craft for which she is well known.”

Val Grimm, The Fix, January 2009

Vol. 22

De Secretis Mulierum

A Novella by
L. Timmel Duchamp
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-24-9)

A Locus recommended novella for 1995,
the year of its original publication.

According to the Pentagon-owned-and-operated Past-Scan Device, Leonardo da Vinci and Thomas Aquinas were both women in drag. Jane Pender’s advisor says that’s impossible, that the technology must be bogus, and pulls the plug on Jane’s dissertation research on Leonardo. What’s a feminist graduate student to do? What else, but do the research behind her advisor’s back, of course...

Winner of the 2008
Carl Brandon Society Parallax Award

Tiptree Award Honor List

Vol. 23

Distances

A Novella by Vandana Singh
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-26-3)

“Intensely and lyrically written, this is the story of a woman named Anasuya who lives near the ocean on a world not unlike Earth.... By the end of this finely layered novella I felt as though I had met a fully formed human being—not to mention a number of fascinating characters—and all with a mathematical conundrum of epic proportions....”

Bob Blough, Tangent Online, July 2009

Vol. 24

Three Observations and a Dialogue: Round and About SF

Essays by Sylvia Kelso
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-28-7)

After WisCon 20, Sylvia Kelso engaged Lois McMaster Bujold in a rich, snappy correspondence about Bujold’s Vorkosigan novels, published here: “Letterspace: In the Chinks Between Published Fiction and Published Criticism.” Also included are three critical essays discussing the intricacies of being an Australian feminist scholar writing about science fiction, colonialism in science fiction by women, and Bujold’s Vorkosigan novels.

Vol. 25

The Buonarotti Quartet

Short fiction by Gwyneth Jones
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-29-4)

The Buonarotti Quartet shows us humans traveling via the device to alien worlds. Some are diplomats, some are extreme travelers, some are prisoners. All are in for a rough, wild ride.

Vol. 26

Slightly Behind and to the Left

Short Fiction by Claire Light
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-34-8)

“Claire Light has pulled together a poetic and surreal collection for the second decade of the twenty-first century, which will likely generate much discussion and controversy. I”

Carole Ann Moleti, Tangent Online, February 2010

Vol. 27

Through the Drowsy Dark

Fiction and poetry
by Rachel Swirsky
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-38-6)

“Swirsky’s range as a writer, from carefully realized fantasy stories to thought-driven short pieces and poems that embrace several political and feminist perspectives, is one of the most impressive things about Through the Drowsy Dark.”

Sara Polsky, Strange Horizons, August 2010

Vol. 28

Shotgun Lullabies

Short fiction by Sheree Renée Thomas
(ISBN: 978-1-933500-59-1)

In this first collection of the stories and poetry of Sheree Thomas, memory is the only force strong enough to counter the terrors of a scarred and forgetful world. Thomas’ characters are people scraping by in slave quarters and institutional margins, people in search of freedom and transformation who come face to face with apocalyptic powers.

Vol. 29

A Brood of Foxes

A Novella by Kristin Livdahl

a Locus recommended book

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-60-7)

Set in a place where time has its own logic, human and animal is a shifting perspective, and the people we love are always slightly other—and better—than we imagined, A Brood of Foxes faces us with the moral dimensions of environmental disasters—in a troublingly literal way.

Vol. 30

The Bone Spindle

Poetry and Short Fiction

by Anne Sheldon

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-72-0)

Anne Sheldon's heroines have lowered eyes and seditious smiles. They are people of folklore and fairy tales. These fourteen story-poems and stories focus on the work that women do with spinning wheel, spindle, and knitting needles. They are accompanied by evocative images of these instruments and the cloth they yield.

A Locus recommended book

Vol. 31

The Last Letter

A Novella by Fiona Lehn

(ISBN: 978-1-933500-86-7)

"This story of a biologist's attempt to stop the advance of a strange and voracious parasite in a protected forest perfectly balances the personal and the scientific, working as both a character study and a fascinatingly odd encounter with a foreign ecosystem."

Jeff VanderMeer, Omnivoracious, December 2011

Vol. 32

We Wuz Pushed: On Joanna Russ and Radical Truth-Telling

Essay by Brit Mandelo

(ISBN: 78-1-61976-005-9)

"To speak radical truths— unapologetically, ferociously, rudely when necessary — is the central purpose of Joanna Russ's influential body of work," declares Brit Mandelo in her essay on Russ's radical, groundbreaking literary and critical work.... Russ emerges in Mandelo's essay as a heroic though all-too-human intellectual and artist, one whose angry, brilliant work we cannot afford to ignore or forget.

Vol. 33

Tiptree Award Honor List

The Receptionist and Other Tales

Poetry by Lesley Wheeler

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-012-7)

Edna, the heroine of The Receptionist, is a mother and the receptionist for an academic department. The morning after hearing a Voice telling her, "The first revolution: simply to refuse," going through her email in-box, Edna thought to check her spam. The message she found there from "nomic Utterance" changed everything.

"Wheeler's brief novel of misbehavior in academia, subtle and funny, rashly inventive and perfectly realistic, uses all the forgotten powers of metaphor and poetry to make the mundane luminous." Ursula K Le Guin

Vol. 34

A Locus recommended book

Birds and Birthdays

Short Fiction by Christopher Barzak

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-014-1)

Remedios Varo, Leonora Carrington, Dorothea Tanning: three of the most interesting painters to flourish in male-dominated Surrealism. This is Christopher Barzak's tribute to them: three stories and an essay that enter into a humane surrealism that turns away from the unconscious and toward magic.

Barzak's stories are huge with the spacious strangeness of worlds where there is always more room for a woman to escape her tormenters, or outgrow an older self.

Vol. 35

The Queen, the Cambion, and Seven Others

Short fiction by Richard Bowes

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-028-8)

Richard Bowes' book of modern Fairy Tales, their Fantasy offspring and Legendary ancestors presents eight of his stories including "The Lady of Wands," in which a Fey cop tells her story, that appears here for the first time. Also original to this book is Bowes' afterword, "A Secret History of Small Books," which traces the path of Fairy Tales as a refuge for women, gay/lesbian writers, and LGBT readers from the 17th century on.

Vol. 36

Spring in Geneva

A novella by Sylvia Kelso

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-044-8)

Mary Shelley, a young banker's son, and William, an excessively tall man with a "lividly hued visage, watery eyes, and blackened lips within a straggling beard," pit their wits and derring-do against Lord Byron, master of steampunk technology, and his thuggish minions.

"The voice and character of Anton render it delightful; haven't seen that much earnest gallantry since Reepicheep." Lois McMaster Bujold

Vol. 37

The XY Conspiracy

A novella by Lori Selke

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-046-2)

Why Are There No Women in Black?

Jyn, an Asian-American lesbian, makes her living stripping in clubs in San Francisco. But stripping is only her day job. Her true vocation is UFO hunting. One night, working at her day job, she sights a Man in Black and realizes he is stalking her.

Vol. 38

Numa: An Epic Poem with Photo Collages

by Katrinka Moore

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-057-8)

The poems in Numa tell the story of a shape-shifting numen. Numa, whose home body is that of a wild feline, learns by trial and error to take the form of other animals, plants, and the elements. As she grows up, she uses her skill to experience and share the divine in ordinary aspects of the world.

Vol. 39

Myths, Metaphors, and Science Fiction

Essays by Sheila Finch

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-055-4)

“This welcome discussion of the connections between future fiction and stories about human inception emphasizes how mythic roots contribute to the emotional power of narrative. Finch investigates the inexplicable awe and wonder that emanates from close encounters between myth and science fiction.”

Marleen S. Barr

Vol 40

NoFood

Short fiction by Sarah Tolmie

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-065-3)

For top chef Hardy Arar, his whole life is food. What is he to do when technology eliminates the need for it? TGB (total gastric bypass) is a giant leap forward for humans longing to transcend their flesh. It has fulfilled the desire of the rich to escape illness, boring sustenance routines, and disgusting bodily processes. But like all technological change, TGB unleashes a cascade of effects, social, political, and economic, effects drastically lives.

“Structurally speaking, this book is brilliant. The stories are interlinked, yet they build on each other in unusual ways.... Each story disrupts the expectations that the previous one has set. The relationships between characters change in surprising and poignant ways.”

Molly Katz, Strange Horizons, August 2015

Vol 41

The Haunted Girl

Short fiction and poetry by Lisa M. Bradley

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-063-9)

The supernatural, the animal, and the deadly often find each other in Lisa M. Bradley's landscapes, tame or wild. Vampires, either restless or filled with ennui; shape-shifters and skin-walkers; demigoddesses of evil and lust; haunted girls and dying fairies—the characters in this collection inhabit worlds of danger, decay, and, sometimes, rebirth. Often rooted in issues of family, ritual, and belonging, the poems and short stories display Bradley's loving mastery of language, which grants us myriad moments of impish wit and startling beauty.

“... the innumerable facets of female identity glitter at the heart of these darkly beautiful treks through otherworldly landscapes of desire and pain, belonging and loneliness, creation and destruction.”

David Bowles, The Monitor, December 2014

Vol 42

Three Songs for Roxy

A novella by Caren Gussoff

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-073-8)

Three Songs for Roxy explores issues of identity, gender, sexuality, and what it means to be an outsider through three inter-related tales: of Kizzy, a foundling raised by a Romany Gypsy family in present-day Seattle, as she is about to be claimed by the aliens who left her to be raised as human; of Scott Lynn Miller, an unstable survivor of Katrina and security guard who is deeply affected by what he witnesses when the aliens contact Kizzy; and of “Natalie,” an alien assigned to retrieve Kizzy.

“Gussoff examines issues of gender, sexuality, race and mental illness with a sensitivity that is all-inclusive....”

Nina Allan, Strange Horizons, February 2016

Vol 43

Ghost Signs

Poetry and a story by Sonya Taaffe

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-071-4)

Poet Sonya Taaffe traces the complex paths between the dead, memory, and living. The two-part cycle “Ghost Signs” leads the reader through the underworld of myth to the hauntings of the present, where the shades of Sappho, Alan Turing, and Ludwig Wittgenstein exist alongside Charon, Dido, and The War of the Worlds. “The Boatman’s Cure” follows a haunted woman and a dead man as they embark on a road trip.

“The poetry here has the brilliance of a knife’s edge, sharp and cuttngly clean, saturated with meaning and freighted with significance.”

Liz Bourke, Strange Horizons, January 2016

Vol 44

The Prince of the Aquamarines

Tales by Louise Cavelier Levesque
Translated and with an Afterword by Ruth Berman
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-071-4)

An eighteenth-century writer creating new versions of fairy tales, Levesque published “The Prince of Aquamarines” and “The Invisible Prince” in 1722. Jacques Barchilon, in his study of the French fairy tales (Le Conte Merveilleux Français de 1690 à 1790), praised Levesque for her style, imagination, and penetrating psychology. He was struck by her use of horrific elements, reminding him of Mary Shelley’s Frankenstein, a century later.

Vol 45

Back, Belly, & Side: True Lies and False Tales

Short fiction by Celeste Rita Baker
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-081-3)

Did you ever wonder what the earth thinks? What’s its favorite song? How she ended up in your heart? Think you can’t fly? Think you have a job you don’t like? How much would you pay for answers?

No, you can’t touch my hair. And yes, I’ve seen your two-toned shoes. Have you seen my father?

Did you ever wonder what clouds are really for? Or how I ended up like this? How old is too old for butter and beef? What’s that one last thing you have to do? And who will help you through?

“Celeste Rita Baker’s stories balance heartache and hilarity with poetic, uncompromising prose. This collection sings ancient songs with a modern beat. It is fully alive.”

Daniel José Older, author of Salsa Nocturna

Vol 46

A Day in Deep Freeze

A novella by Lisa Shapter
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-083-7)

1963: Emran Greene is a successful corporate accountant, a hopeful soon-to-be-father, and an unremarkable husband—except for the lingering effects of an experimental wartime truth serum, his ex-boyfriend, the impossibility of his conceiving a child, and all of the other secrets he keeps from his wife and his employer. One of these, the secret of the lonely grave he visits regularly in Riverport’s Castleview Cemetery, holds a tragedy that just won’t stay gone...

“There’s a touch of Philip K. Dick in Shapter’s book. The same concerns with paranoia and psychosis are present. The one key difference being that Shapter revels in the long drawn out moments, the slow build towards a climax that remains off-screen, looming and yet to materialize.”

Justin Howe, My Bookish Ways, July 2015

Vol 47

A Field Guide to the Spirits

Poetry by Jean LeBlanc
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-097-4)

In A Field Guide to the Spirits, poetry becomes a means of time travel in which voices from the past offer insights, reveal secrets, transform our concept of now. These poems explore the interwoven pathways of ghost, memory, imagination, and desire. The spirits visited range from Caroline Herschel and Mary Shelley to Zane Grey and Dashiell Hammet, William Blake to Anne Hutchinson, John Keats to Isaac Newton’s niece.

Shortlisted for the 2017 Crawford Award

Vol 48

Marginalia to Stone Bird

Poetry by Rose Lemberg
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-099-8)

In this powerful debut collection, poet Rose Lemberg explores the deep-rooted fluidity of gender, tradition, language, and desire in landscapes as familiar as high fantasy and as foreign as San Francisco. Written in the voices of immigrants, shape-changers, sentient ships in a distant future, and heroes of a mythic past, her poems inhabit a fragile, vital space of complex identity and story as a conscious act, stubbornly urging the reader’s attention toward the marginal, the liminal, and the unheard.

“... a testament to how speculative poetry can succeed in capturing voice and plot and movement and feeling while still tackling big ideas and personal truths.”

Charles Payseur, Nerds of a Feather, January 2016

Special Citation, 2017 Philip K. Dick Award

Vol 49

Unpronounceable

A novella by Susan diRende
(ISBN: 978-1-61976-107-0)

Earth has discovered it is not alone in the universe. The aliens — pink, shapeless, and peaceful — are very nice, but after a string of failed diplomatic missions, they ask Earth to stop with the crazies and send someone normal. In frustration, the UN devises a lottery to pick the next ambassador.

Enter Rose Delancy, a Jersey waitress with a grudge against pretty much the whole world. When she arrives, she is nothing but rude to the Blobs, as she calls them, and they find it refreshing. She likes them; they like her. She settles in and starts teaching the natives all about junk food, movies, and sex.

“DiRende’s irreverence is a delight. And her sarcastic wit comes through in Rose’s first-person narration. Your feisty little broad from Jersey knows what’s what.”

Gerald Everett Jones, Splash Magazines, June 2016

Sleeping Under the Tree of Life

Short fiction by Sheree Renée Thomas

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-111-7)

Sleeping under the Tree of Life evokes the realm of ancestral knowledge with a deep respect for the natural world, a love of language, and an invitation—for survival, and asks: Who survives without being transformed?

“Thomas’s skill with poetry and prose is remarkable, and even the shortest poems in this volume contain ideas and images that will linger in the reader’s mind.

Publishers Weekly, July 2016

Finalist for the 2016 Shirley Jackson Award

Vol 51

Other Places

Short fiction by Karen Heuler

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-115-5)

Life unfolds in strange ways.

You may encounter people from your past living in your former apartments, or realize you have a penis as you engage in war-dreams, or find a planet filled with ghosts that look exactly like the ghosts back home. Wherever you travel, you’ll have to make tough decisions about the aliens you may have harmed and the aliens who may harm you. Other Places follows travelers as the familiar becomes strange, and the strange becomes life.

“Heuler’s prose illuminates the strangeness of both her characters and her settings. Establishing elaborate themes and morals is no easy feat in such short narrative arcs, but Heuler does it admirably, quickly laying the groundwork for her myriad of worlds, cultures, and travelers.”

Publishers Weekly, September 2016

Vol 52

Monteverde: Memoirs of an Interstellar Linguist

A novella by Lola Robles
tr. by Lawrence Schimel

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-117-9)

Terran scholar Rachel Monteverde journeys to Aanuk, a paradisiacal planet famous for both its beaches and the generosity of its nomadic inhabitants. The aanukiens are not the only people on the planet, however: Rachel is eager to meet the Fihdia, a cave-dwelling people who share a congenital condition that makes them blind. Rachel’s relentless determination to communicate with them despite the Aanukien’s dismissal and the Fihdia’s secretiveness will yield more than she ever hoped for.

The Adventure of the Incognita Countess

A novella by Cynthia Ward

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-119-3)

It’s the easiest assignment a British intelligence agent could hope for. Lucy Harker needs only see the secret plans of the Nautilus safely across the Atlantic. As German spies are largely a fantasy of newspapers, she anticipates no activities more strenuous than hiding her heritage as Dracula’s dhampir daughter. Then among her fellow Titanic passengers she discovers the incognita Countess Karnstein—and it seems the seductive vampire is in Germany’s service. Can Agent Harker stake Carmilla before her own heart—and her loyalty to the British Empire—are subverted by questions as treacherous as a night-cloaked iceberg?

Vol 54

Boundaries, Border Crossings, and Reinventing the Future

Essays by Beth Plutchak

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-121-6)

The personal is political, and the political is personal. This collection of essays and an sf tale explores the intersections of representation, science fiction, feminism, social justice, and fandom, specifically in relationship to the feminist sf convention WisCon.

Plutchak argues that to build a new future we need new stories, stories that tell us where we have been as well as show us where we are going, and she uses feminist theory to analyze feminist sf fandom’s history, present, and future.

“Opposition Night” nominated for the Rhysling Award

Vol 55

Liberating the Astronauts

Poetry by Christina M. Rau

(ISBN: 978-1-61976-127-8)

From the Pointer Sisters doing the Neutron Dance to David Bowman’s exclamation while traveling through the star gate near Jupiter; from stealing Joan Didion’s sadness to erasing F. Scott Fitzgerald’s Gatsby; this collection weaves its way through the awkward paradox of wanting freedom while fearing it. A little science, a bit of sci-fi, a little feminism, a bit of lit, in Liberating The Astronauts, we see that not fitting in gives us the freedom to stand out.

“Since the dawn of time, man has dreamed of visiting the stars... Christina M. Rau’s new book...is one of the most intriguing collections of poetry that investigates this instinctual call of discovery. She examines outer and inner space, with poems that tap into science as depicted through fact, fiction, and fantasy.... Rau takes the reader for a ride of adventure and discovery...”

Peter V. Dugan

ORDER FORM

Conversation Pieces Retail $12; Publisher's Discount $10	Price	No.	Total
Series Subscription 10 Volumes (US shipment only). Any 10 or a combination of any current volumes and forthcoming volumes (consecutive)	$80
Vol 1 The Grand Conversation —L. Timmel Duchamp	$10
Vol 2 With Her Body Nicola Griffith	$10
Vol 3 Changeling —Nancy Jane Moore	$10
Vol 4 Counting on Wildflowers —Kim Antieau	$10
Vol 5 The Traveling Tide —Rosaleen Love	$10
Vol 6 The Adventures of the Faithful Counselor —Anne Sheldon	$10
Vol 7 Ordinary People —Eleanor Arnason	$10
Vol 8 Writing the Other —Nisi Shawl & Cynthia Ward	$10
Vol 9 Alien Bootlegger —Rebecca Ore	$10
Vol 10 Red Rose Rages (Bleeding) —L. Timmel Duchamp	$10
Vol 11 Talking Back —Edited by L. Timmel Duchamp	$10
Vol 12 Absolute Uncertainty —Lucy Sussex	$10
Vol 13 Candle in a Bottle —Carolyn Ives Gilman	$10
Vol 14 Knots —Wendy Walker	$10
Vol 15 Naomi Mitchison: A Profile of Her Life and Work —Lesley A. Hall	$10
Vol 16 We, Robots —Sue Lange	$10
Vol 17 Making Love in Madrid —Kimberly Todd Wade	$10
Vol 18 Of Love and Other Monsters —Vandana Singh	$10
Vol 19 Aliens of the Heart —Carolyn Ives Gilman	$10
Vol 20 Voices from Fairyland —Theodora Goss	$10
Vol 21 My Death —Lisa Tuttle	$10
Vol 22 De Secretis Mulierum —L. Timmel Duchamp	$10
Vol 23 Distances —Vandana Singh	$10
Vol 24 Three Observations and a Dialogue —Sylvia Kelso	$10
Vol 25 The Buonarrotti Quartet —Gwyneth Jones	$10
Vol 26 Slightly Behind and to the Left —Claire Light	$10
Vol 27 Through the Drowsy Dark —Rachel Swirsky	$10
Vol 28 Shotgun Lullabies —Sheree Renée Thomas	$10
Vol 29 A Brood of Foxes —Kristin Livdahl	$10
Vol 30 The Bone Spindle —Anne Sheldon	$10
Vol 31 The Last Letter —Fiona Lehn	$10
Vol 32 We Wuz Pushed —Brit Mandelo	$10
Vol 33 The Receptionist and Other Tales —Lesley Wheeler	$10
Vol 34 Birds and Birthdays —Christopher Barzak	$10

Vol 35 The Queen, the Cambion, and Seven Others —Richard Bowes	$10
Vol 36 The XY Conspiracy —Lori Selke	$10
Vol 37 Spring in Geneva —Sylvia Kelso	$10
Vol 38 Numa —Katrinka Moore	$10
Vol 39 Myth, Metaphor, and Science Fiction —Sheila Finch	$10
Vol 40 NoFood —Sarah Tolmie	$10
Vol 41 The Haunted Girl —Lisa M. Bradley	$10
Vol 42 Three Songs for Roxy —Caren Gussoff	$10
Vol 43 Ghost Signs —Sonya Taaffe	$10
Vol 44 The Prince of the Aquamarines —Louise Cavelier Levesque	$10
Vol 45 Back, Belly, and Side: True Lies and False Tales —Celeste Rita Baker	$10
Vol 46 A Day in Deep Freeze —Lisa Shapter	$10
Vol 47 A Field Guide to the Spirits —Jean LeBlanc	$10
Vol 48 Marginalia to Stone Bird —Rose Lemberg	$10
Vol 49 Unpronounceable —Susan DiRende	$10
Vol. 50 Sleeping Under the Tree of Life —Sheree Renée Thomas	$10
Vol. 51 Other Places —Karen Heuler	$10
Vol. 52 Monteverde —Lola Robles and tr. by Lawrence Schimel	$10
Vol. 53 The Adventure of the Incognita Countess —Cynthia Ward	$10
Vol. 54 Boundaries, Border Crossings, and Reinventing the Future —Beth Plutchak	$10
Vol 55 Liberating the Astronauts —Christina M. Rau	$10
Vol 56 In Search of Lost Time —Karen Heuler	$10
Vol 57 Cosmovore —Kristi Carter	$10
Vol 58 Helen's Story —Rosanne Rabinowitz	$10
Vol 59 Liminal Spaces —Beth Plutchak	$10
Vol 60 Feed Me the Bones of Our Saints —Alex Dally MacFarlane	$10
Vol 61 If Not Skin —Toby MacNutt	$10
Series Subtotal:

Heirloom Books	Price	No.	Total
No 1 It Walks in Beauty —Chandler Davis	$21
No 2 Dorothea Dreams —Suzy McKee Charnas	$16
No 3 New Amazonia —Elizabeth Burgoyne Corbett	$15
No 4 The Merril Theory of Lit'ry Criticism —Judith Merril	$22
No 5 Ring of Swords —Eleanor Amason	$20
Series Subtotal:

Short Fiction	Price	No.	Total
Hwarhath Stories —Eleanor Arnason	$19
Big Mama Stories —Eleanor Arnason	$16
Missing Links and Secret Histories edited by L. Timmel Duchamp	$18
Love's Body, Dancing in Time — L. Timmel Duchamp	$16
Never at Home —L. Timmel Duchamp	$18
Dangerous Space —Kelley Eskridge	$18
The Universe of Things —Gwyneth Jones	$18
In the House of the Seven Librarians — Ellen Klages	$9
Space is Just a Starry Night —Tanith Lee	$18
Centuries Ago and Very Fast —Rebecca Ore	$16
Ancient, Ancient —Kiini Ibara Salaam	$18
Squaring the Circle —Gheorghie Sasarman,	$16
Filter House —Nisi Shawl	$18
Feminist Voices — edited by Batya Susan Weinbaum	$16

Novels
Tomb of the Fathers —Eleanor Arnason	$15
Elysium —Jennifer Marie Brissett	$18
Will Do Magic for Small Change — Andrea Hairston	$21
Redwood and Wildfire —Andrea Hairston	$20
Mindscape —Andrea Hairston	$19.50
Flesh & Wires —Jackie Hatton	$19
Roadsouls —Betsy James	$20
Life —Gwyneth Jones	$19
The Weave —Nancy Jane Moore	$19
Time and Robbery —Rebecca Ore	$16
Necessary Ill —Deb Tabor	$20
Two Travelers —Sarah Tolmie	$16
The Stone Boatmen —Sarah Tolmie	$20
The Waterdancer's World —L. Timmel Duchamp	$20
Time's Oldest Daughter —Susan W. Lyons	$18
Chercher La Femme —L. Timmel Duchamp	$19
The Breath of the Sun —Rachel Fellman	$19

Poetry
Unruly Islands by Liz Henry	$12
The Moment of Change edited by Rose Lemberg	$20

The Marq'ssan Cycle by L. Timmel Duchamp
Alanya to Alanya	$19 $10
Renegade	$19 $10
Tsunami	$19 $10
Blood in the Fruit	$19 $10
Stretto	$19 $10
Subtotal Novel/Short Fiction

WisCon GoH Volumes	Price	No.	Total
Plugged In 2008 L. Timmel Duchamp & Maureen McHugh	$12
Without a Map 2010 Mary Anne Mohanraj & Nnedi Okorafor	$12
Something More and More 2011 Nisi Shawl	$12
Impolitic! 2012 Andrea Hairston & Debbie Notkin	$12
The Helix and The Hard Road 2013 Joan Slonczewski & Jo Walton	$12
Systems Fail 2014 Hiromi Goto & N. K. Jemisin	$12
Metamorphosis 2015 Alaya Dawn Johnson & Kim Stanley Robinson	$12

The WisCon Chronicles
Vol 1 WisCon 30 Edited by L. Timmel Duchamp	$15
Vol 2 WisCon 31 Edited by L. Timmel Duchamp & Eileen Gunn	$15
Vol 3 WisCon 32 Edited by Liz Henry	$15
Vol 4 WisCon 33 Edited by Sylvia Kelso	$15
Vol 5 WisCon 34 Edited by Nisi Shawl	$15
Vol 6 WisCon 35 Edited by Alexis Lothian	$15
Vol 7 WisCon 36 Edited by JoSelle Vanderhoff	$15
Vol 8 WisCon 37 Edited by Rebecca J. Holden	$15
Vol 9 WisCon 38 Edited by Mary Anne Mohanraj	$15
Vol 10 WisCon 39 Edited by Margaret McBride	$15
Vol 11 WisCon 40 Edited by Jaymee Goh	$15
Subtotal WisCon Volumes

Nonfiction	Price	No.	Total
Lonely Stardust —Andrea Hairston	$20
Strange Matings —edited by Rebecca J. Holden and Nisi Shawl	$20
80! Memories & Reflections on Ursula K. Le Guin —edited by Karen Joy Fowler & Debbie Notkin	$19
Cheek by Jowl —Ursula K. Le Guin	$16
Imagination Space —Gwyneth Jones	$19
The Secret Feminist Cabal —Helen Merrick	$19
Narrative Power — edited by L. Timmel Duchamp	$19
Sleeping with Monsters —Liz Bourke	$19
Subtotal Non-Fiction Collections

AQUEDUCT'S AUTHORS AND EDITORS

Kim Antieau ☺ Eleanor Arnason ☺ Christopher Barzak ☺ Richard Bowes ☺ Ruth Berman
 Lisa M. Bradley ☺ Jennifer Marie Brissett ☺ Ritchie Calvin ☺ Suzy McKee Charnas
 Kristi Carter ☺ Elizabeth Burgoyne Corbett ☺ Chandler Davis ☺ Susan diRende
 L. Timmel Duchamp ☺ Kelley Eskridge ☺ Rachel Fellman ☺ Sheila Finch ☺ Karen Joy Fowler
 Carolyn Ives Gilman ☺ Jaymee Goh ☺ Theodora Goss ☺ Hiromi Goto ☺ Nicola Griffith ☺ Eileen Gunn
 Caren Gussoff ☺ Andrea Hairston ☺ Lesley A. Hall ☺ Jackie Hatton ☺ Liz Henry ☺ Karen Heuler
 Rebecca J. Holden ☺ Betsy James ☺ N.K. Jemisin ☺ Gwyneth Jones ☺ Sylvia Kelso ☺ Ellen Klages
 Sue Lange ☺ Ursula K. Le Guin ☺ Jean LaBlanc ☺ Tanith Lee ☺ Fiona Lehn ☺ Rose Lemberg
 Louise Cavelier Levesque ☺ Claire Light ☺ Kristin Livdahl ☺ Alexis Lothian ☺ Rosaleen Love
 Josh Lukin ☺ Karen W. Lyons ☺ Alex Dally MacFarlane ☺ Toby MacNutt ☺ Brit Mandelo
 Margaret McBride ☺ Maureen McHugh ☺ Judith Merrill ☺ Helen Merrick ☺ Mary Anne Mohanraj
 Nancy Jane Moore ☺ Katrinka Moore ☺ Debbie Notkin ☺ Nnedi Okorafor ☺ Beth Plutchak
 Rebecca Ore ☺ Christina M. Rau ☺ Rosanne Rabinowitz ☺ Kim Stanley Robinson ☺ Lola Robles
 Geoff Ryman ☺ Kiini Ibura Salaam ☺ Gheorghe Săsărman ☺ Lori Selke ☺ Lisa Shapter ☺ Nisi Shawl
 Anne Sheldon ☺ Vandana Singh ☺ Joan Slonczewski ☺ Lucy Sussex ☺ Rachel Swirsky
 Sonya Taaffe ☺ Deb Taber ☺ Sheree Renée Thomas ☺ Sarah Tolmie ☺ Lisa Tuttle
 JoSelle Vanderhooft ☺ Kimberly Todd Wade ☺ Wendy Walker ☺ Jo Walton ☺ Cynthia Ward
 Batya Susan Weinbaum ☺ Lesley Wheeler

Series Subtotal: Conversation Pieces & Heirloom Books
Subtotal Novel/Short Fiction
Subtotal Non-Fiction Collections
Subtotal WisCon Volumes
USA Shipping and Handling	$4.00
International Shipping and Handling (single order: see website for amount)
Washington State residents must include 10.1% tax.	Tax
Total

Name:
Address:
City:
State:	Zip:
Phone Number (optional):
Email Address (optional):
<input type="checkbox"/> Please add me to your email list.

Send your form with check or money order to:
 Aqueduct Press
 P.O. Box 95787
 Seattle, WA 98145-2787
www.aqueductpress.com

PO Box 95787
 Seattle, WA 98145-2787
info@aqueductpress.com

www.aqueductpress.com